Exceptional from every angle.

The Park Slope trestle table has a distinctly modern feel. At its base, spindles are arranged in two broad bows to provide a fresh perspective from every direction. The shape is echoed in the subtle, perfect curves that form the Park Slope shelter chairs.

HAND-RUBBED FINISHES

Stickley finishes are hand-applied in multiple layers, achieving a clarity seldom seen in furniture today. Every detail of the wood grain is not merely visible but beautifully enhanced. The final step is a careful hand-rubbing process that creates the desired luster. Made with no dipping and no conveyor belts, a Stickley finish is uniquely "hands-on."
